Hi Emily,

It was a pleasure to meet you last evening at the dinner event. Thanks for taking the time to help industry understand your goals and priorities. I really like your 4 key tenets of Ethics, Competition, Reducing Duplication, and Transparency. I also enjoyed the candid conversation about how industry and Government can work better together.

We are very excited at Oracle to be coming back to the schedule for our cloud services.

I hope we can prove to GSA that we are good business partners.

Thanks again,

Emily,

Great seeing you at PSC. I wanted to follow up and see if you had time for us to come in and discuss the issues I mentioned on compliance and licensing. I'd bring in our head of Public Sector, (b) (6) and some of his folks.

Thanks so much, and appreciate your interest.

Emily,

Great seeing you at the WH last week. Just following up on our conversation and seeing if you want to chat in the future.

We're also working on procurement reform and trying to get commercial T&C's as the standard for the Schedules. As I mentioned in January, we've had a slew of headaches selling through GSA and have pulled out of the schedules program.

All the best, and hope you're doing well,

Im sending this invite as a fellow GSAer looking to help identify a potential replacement in GSA.

The AFFIRM programs committee had been working with FEDSIM and arranged a speaker for tomorrow and unfortunately she is now out with the flu and CHRIS is out of the country. Topic is broad (see below) but focus is on innovation in acquisition including use of OTAs.

Would you or someone else in OGP be able to join tomorrows AFFIRM program panel?
In addition to being a great fit for this topic, you have been a supporter of AFFIRM in the past and I know they appreciate it.

Below is the invite used for FEDSIM. They'd been working through Kristen DiReda and Stephanie Joseph initially.

Thanks, Stacy

We would be pleased if you could join us for the November AFFIRM Luncheon Panel. The topic is:

Technology Acquisition in Government: The Marriage of Outcome and Innovation.

As the pace of technological change accelerates, government agencies are looking for ways to keep up the pace by tapping innovative ways to spur the buying process. Techniques such as Other Transaction Authorities (OTA) promise to cut contract delivery time by 50% in the near future. These procurement approaches encourage innovation while reducing the risk and conserving budget.

This panel will bring together government executives and industry experts to discuss how OTAs can accelerate purchasing techniques to keep government IT on the leading edge.

This event is on the record.

AFFIRM is a Project Management Institute Registered Education Provider (R.E.P.). There are 1.25 PDUs available for this program.

Learning Objectives:

- Define the Other Transaction Authorities and how agencies are utilizing this procurement mechanism.
- Understand the principles driving procurement reform including policy initiatives, modernization mandates, and organizational leadership.
- Explain the impact of rapid procurement initiatives on small businesses, academia, and major government contractors.
- Detail best practices in using acquisition innovation from agencies in the forefront of change.

 3. a list of the programs and license quantities that GSA categorizes as the past usage.

ELA Agreement: GSA is uniquely positioned to bring together multiple agencies for the purpose of a large transaction. Recently we have built multi-agency Tiger Teams for the purpose of facilitating software business with ESRI, Adobe, and HPE. We also have recently stood up a governmentwide special interest group around Oracle users – which could give us a useful platform to promote a consolidated opportunity with more than one agency. (b) (5)
